

Edward N. Diliberto

From: <PRIDE9@aol.com>
To: <NRoof@aol.com>; <JudgeJFN@aol.com>; <rroylance9@mstar2.net>
Sent: Friday, December 31, 2004 1:27 AM
Subject: Please visit www.pridengo.org and welcome to present papers

3rd GLOBAL ETHICS SYMPOSIUM

&

YOUTH SUMMIT

A CALL FOR PAPERS:

The Impact of Social & Religious Morality on Global Issues

DATE: JULY 8 – 11, 2005

PLACE: CHINESE ACADEMY OF SOCIAL SCIENCES – BEIJING, CHINA

This Symposium is co-sponsored by the Pacific Rim Institute for Development & Education, (PRIDE), a non-profit, Non-Governmental Organization (NGO) in Special Consultative Status with the Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC) of the United Nations

&

The Chinese Academy of Social Sciences (CASS): This national agency supervises the study and research of a wide variety of matters of social concern in China, including economics, language, history, philosophy, religion, and more. The Institute Of World Religions (Iwr) is one of the largest religious research institutes in the world.

Participants & Guests: Internationally renowned scholars, educators, and experts in the fields social and economic justice, education, media, human development, environment, public health, business, philosophy and religion will explore, compare, and evaluate diverse views of ethics, morals, social standards and spiritual values of our global society.

This symposium will expand our friendships by continued collaborations with international experts and prominent scholars of the People's Republic of China, as well as support an international and Chinese youth exchange, with the opportunity to consult on global issues at the Youth Ambassador Summit.

Since the Global Ethics Symposium will be presented in both English and Chinese, we request that those intending to present papers register prior to March 1, 2005. Please submit now, a one-page abstract of no more than 300 words, together with a brief autobiography not to exceed 150 words. The completed papers need to be submitted by March 1, 2005 for review by our reviewing committee. Final, reviewed manuscripts need to be received by PRIDE by April 1, 2005 on computer disk and in paper copy. Presented manuscripts will be published following the symposium. Please be sure your papers are typed in Times New Roman (font) and size (12)

Each abstract will be available in English and Chinese prior to the start of the conference, affording attendees the opportunity to review them in advance to better facilitate discussion. Each individual will have time for a presentation of their key points followed by a discussion period. The conference will include plenary sessions, and group-presentation sessions. In addition, free periods during the days and evenings will provide participants with the opportunity to pursue mutual interests, share published materials, and build professional and personal relationships.

The conference will stimulate participants to transcend the bounds of theoretical research, to help create practical models for addressing ethical or moral issues. Various universities will send representatives to attend the discussions for developing global ethics curriculum for Jr. High and high school students for both inside and outside of China.

For the Third Global Ethics symposium, the following subtopics are provided for your reference in developing your presentation within the topics of Globalization of Environment & Public Health, Social and Economic Justice, Education, Media and Human Development, and Secular Morality & Religious Ethics:

Globalization Of Environment & Public Health

1. "What Kind Of Universal Morality Code Is Needed For The Modern World?"
2. "Is Globalization An Inevitable Process Or A Man-Made Technique Conduction?"
3. "The Family As A Path Towards Health"

Economic Justice And Poverty

4. "Moral Standards In The Protection Of Children, Orphans And Women"
5. "Ethics, Securitization & World Peace"
6. "The Application Of Moral Principles In Business & In Law"

Education, Media, Family And Human Development

7. "Family & Societal Contributions To The Basic Needs In Child & Youth Development"
8. "The Value Of Ethics In Student Core Curriculums"
9. "Exploring New Global Standards For Healing Social Disease"
10. "Secular And Doctrinal Considerations In Population Control"
11. "The Merge And Change Of Ethical Values In A Pluralistic Society"
12. "Moral Education In Art Form To Transform Juveniles & Prisoners"

World Order, Peace, Secular Ethics & Religious Morality

13. "Contrasting Sources & Implementation Of Ethical Standards, Related To National Culture"
15. "Applying Religious Ethical Principles To Today's Secular Challenges"
16. "Ethical Differentials In Religious And Secular Belief"

IF YOU ARE PRESENTING A PAPER, PLEASE COMPLETE THE FOLLOWING:

Title and description of your presentation topic(s) _____

Will you require written translation services? Yes ___ No ___

If you have published materials that you would like presented to interested persons, please furnish title of the material, field of expertise, and year of publication.

PACIFIC RIM INSTITUTE FOR DEVELOPMENT & EDUCATION (PRIDE)

A United States tax-exempt non-profit charitable organization, registered with the IRS.

International Mailing: 6230 Wilshire BL, Suite 1763, Los Angeles, CA 90048, USA,

US Corporate Offices: 3330 San Pasqual Street, Pasadena City, CA 91107, USA, Fax: 626-395-9794

Shanghai Office: 571 Yu-Yuan Road, Suite. 102, JingAn District, Shanghai City, PR China 200040, Tel: 8621-6248-4081, Fax: 8621-6249-4438,

PRIDE Web address: <http://www.pridengo.org>

General PRIDE Email address: pride9@aol.com

Email address for Paper & Registration submittal: symposium@pridengo.org

Email address for the 2005 Beijing Youth Summit: Youth@pridengo.org,

*Hotel packages will be published on the Website.